Midnight

We found love in the use of cosmetic beauty...
 ...as if we were having a special time keeping our beauty charms in the castle...
 ...as if we were Cinderella who saves her beauty under a magic spell before "Midnight".

Ori-Tsuru

Crane is the Bird of Happiness. In Japanese culture, it refers to "Long lives, Good Health, and Good Luck". These meaningful characteristics have inspired the creation of this product for the simple but elegant stationery set.

The Circus

When we were young and had a chance to go to the Circus, we were so happy, excited, and fun dreaming that we wanted to build our own Circus at home so that we could watch it everyday. Today we have that chance. This feeling lights up our inspiration to create a collection of desktop accessories with excitement, fun, and happiness like a dream we had.

Sea & Sky

Under the bright blue sky and deep blue sea, there have been many story-tellings which inspired us for the Key hanger and Letter rack on walls. The friendship, love, bound, and jolliness are combined into each product depending on which story you will choose to have on your own walls. The friendship of a girl trying to rescue her dog being stuck on the balloons, the happy moment for a squid who splash his ink into his whale friend's face, and etc.

Ani - gami

"Animal + Gami = Ani-gami"
There are a few times when we have nothing to do, we grasp a piece of paper and we fold it to many things like origami. When we finish we would leave it there on our desk and sometimes thinking...it would be nice if this little art piece of mine can be actually used on the desk. There it comes the inspiration that makes that little art piece being used in everyday life.

Bento

Bento is commonly known as takeout or home-packed meal in Japanese cuisine. Each container ranging from a disposable mass produced to a hand-crafted lacquerware is produced to serve depending on your favour.

My document

The stationary set was inspired by the document files in the office. To create the good combination with files in your work place, tags were put into each product to remind their functions while at the same time creating the gimmick to add more values.
